

Dear Valued Customer,

During a recent review of the tax forms mailed for tax year 2023, it was discovered that the bank address information was not properly printed. Updated tax forms have been mailed with the correct Dime Community Bank address information.

Please be aware, as you may have received multiple tax forms, that the information contained on the form was only provided to the IRS one time.

If you have any questions, we encourage you to contact your banker or our Customer Support Center.
